

State sovereignty vs. migrants' individual rights: looking for a new balance
Bruno Nascimbene

Concluding reflections in the margins of the session “State sovereignty vs. migrants’ individual rights”, within the framework of the seminar “Changing trends and dynamics of EU Migration Law and Governance: a critical assessment of the evolution of migration legislation and policy in Europe”, organized by EDEM - Équipe Droits Européens et Migrations, University of Louvain (UCLouvain), on 17 November 2020. The paper is the result of a common reflection, but specifically paragraphs 1 and 4 are by Bruno Nascimbene and 2 and 3 by Alessia Di Pascale.

Per leggere la relazione, clicca qui